UNIVERSITY TO HELP THALASSEMIC PATIENTS

Faridabad: After providing a launch-pad to the programmes like oxygen-refilling management system and Jivisha helpline for medical assistance in district, the JC Bose University of Science and Technology, YMCA, Faridabad, has announced a social initiative in collaboration with Rotary Blood Bank, Faridabad, to help thalassemia patients. Thalassemia is an inherited blood disorder that affects the body's ability to produce hemoglobin and red blood cells. To save these patients, frequent blood transfusions are required. The university along-with Rotary Blood Bank, Faridabad would conduct a drive to register thalassemia patients to meet their blood requirement.
