Brief Description of the event	In a heart-warming act of kindness, a team of student volunteers and faculty members from Electrical Engineering Department of JC Bose University of Science and Technology, YMCA, Faridabad, in collaboration with the Prabhat NGO, visited an orphanage home for especially abled children. The volunteers spent their valuable time with the children, performing various dance and mimicry acts, bringing smiles to the faces of the children. The volunteers distributed free stationery, groceries, and daily essential supplies to the children. The main objective of the visit was to make students aware of social work and encourage them to become responsible citizens who contribute to society. The volunteers were overwhelmed by the love and affection shown by the children, and they vowed to visit the orphanage home regularly. The visit was a grand success, and the students were touched by the happiness and joy that they brought into the lives of the children.
