Report on Orientation(9.12.22)

The NSS JCBUST successfully conducted orientation program for welcoming new volunteers, and it aims to introduce them to the goals, objectives, and methodology of NSS.

The program covers topics such as the history and philosophy of NSS, the organizational structure of NSS at the national, state, and local levels, and the various programs and activities and NSS project like project education, project Annapoorna and it's sub team that volunteers can participate in. The orientation also includes interactive sessions, group discussions, and team-building exercises to help volunteers work together effectively.

The program's primary objective is to inspire and motivate young people to participate in community service activities, thereby instilling in them a sense of social responsibility and commitment to the welfare of society. By participating in NSS, volunteers can develop their skills, gain practical experience, and contribute to the development of their communities.
