Detailed Activity Report	Department of Environmental Sciences and Vasundhara Eco-club of J.C. Bose University of Science and Technology, YMCA, Faridabad, celebrated the auspicious festival of light by organizing a day-long joyous and vibrant 'Deepavali Utsav' in the department on 8th November 2023. The event started by seeking blessings of Lord Ganesha, Goddess Lakshmi and Goddess Saraswati through an auspicious Havan ceremony held in the department. The ceremony marked the presence of Prof. Neetu Gupta, Dean, Faculty of Sciences, Dr. Renuka Gupta, Chairperson Incharge, EVS staff members and students of the department. Following this, the students of M.Sc. Environmental Sciences, research scholars and members of the Vasundhara eco-club participated in Rangoli making and Diya decoration competitions. Students showcased their talent by making colorful and vibrant rangoli and diyas. The Jury members Dr. Sakshi Kalra, Associate Professor, EL Department, Dr. Reena and Dr. Nisha, Assistant Professors, Maths Department and Dr. Taruna Narula, Assistant Professor, CMT Department had hard time deciding the best three among beautiful presentations. Post lunch session included cultural programme. The energy and enthusiasm of the students was evident from the dance performances, songs and poem recitations. The programme was marked by the wholehearted participation of faculty members, non-teaching staff, research scholars, Postgraduate students and members of the Vasundhara Eco-club. The 1st Prize in the Rangoli making Competition was bagged by Divyanshi, MSc EVS 3rd Sem, 2nd prize by the team Vandana, Riya, Shelly of MSc EVS 1st Semester and 3rd prize by Anjali and Pragati, MSc EVS 3rd Semester. In the Diya Decoration Competition, 1st and 2nd prize were bagged by Riya and Shelly of MSc EVS 3rd Sem, respectively and the 3rd prize was won by Anjali, a Research Scholar. The
